To Whom It May Concern,

I am pleased to recommend Mr. Alessandro Chiarrocchi, a Master's student in Data Science Engineering, who successfully completed my course Computer-Aided Simulations Lab with the highest distinction, earning 30/30 with Honors (cum laude). This result reflects not only his strong technical preparation, but also his analytical rigor, problem-solving skills, and intellectual maturity.

 I am pretty confident that he possesses the skills and dedication required to excel in advanced academic or professional environments in data science and computational engineering.

Your Sincerely,

Prof. Emilio Leonardi
